

THERE ARE 3 TYPES OF INVESTORS IN MUTUAL FUNDS.

Find Out Which Type Describes You The Best.

Imagine Three Friends Going On A Trek!

One friend decides to take the route where cars travel

The other one decides to trek via the steep and narrow slope

The third friend decides to trek through the slope for a while before joining his friend in the car

Although they all enjoy the breathtaking beauty of the mountains, the key difference lies in their risk taking capability. And this is precisely what differentiates various types of investors from one another.

One with a Conservative Mutual Fund Portfolio:

Characteristics:

- Low-risk Appetite
- Fears Market Uncertainties
- Seeks Maximum Stability

One with an Aggressive Mutual Fund Portfolio:

Characteristics:

- High-risk Appetite
- Accepts Market Uncertainties With An Aim To Grow Maximum Wealth

One with a Moderate Mutual Fund Portfolio:

Characteristics:

- Medium-risk Appetite
- Seeks Both Growth And Stability

But the point that stitches these 3 types of investors together is their trust towards Mutual Funds to grow their money.
